These two wines are coming from a small coop in Navarra, north of Spain. Their technical team has found a way of carbonating those wines in mini batch Charmat method, and for a long time at the right gas pressure in order for the bubbles to be fully integrated with the wines and for those to retain lasting carbonation.

Sparkling white: 90% Airen, 10% Sauvignon Blanc make for a pale yellow crisp color, nose of white flowers, Korean melon, minerals and delicate citrus. Light to Medium body on the palate, the same flavors linger through a crisp silky texture and a delicious fizzy finish. A crowd pleaser, awesome by itself, but also with red fruit and/or guava juice.

Sparkling Rose: 100% Tempranillo makes for a pale Rose wine, with notes of small berry, goose berry, red currant, and spice. Light to Medium body on the palate, the same flavors linger through a crisp silky texture and a delicious fizzy finish. A crowd pleaser, awesome by itself but also with red fruit and/or guava juice.
